DEMOCRATIC SUCCESS.

Ross Cavendish Tells of a Few Calamities That Follow in Its Wake.

Democratic success means more time for gymnastics and the cultivation of Christian science.

Democratic success tends to warn us of the fact that "the mills will never grind again with the water that has passed;" that the tide is passing out, and that we, like the Indian and the buffalo, are placidly and peacefully passing away.

Democratic success means that the swallows shall nest again in the smoke stacks of the iron and steel factories of the United States.

Democratic success means that grass will form in the railroad beds, and rust form on the rails.

Democracy is not particularly Catholic in character. However, it observes Lent—all the year around.

Democratic success means monuments for the few and morgues for the masses.

The question now arises, does the Democratic party promise success in anything?

Why bless you, yes, in suicide.

Beats carbolic acid or blowing out the gas.—Ross Cavendish.

The Republican district conventions held in this county last Saturday for the election of delegates to the State, Senatorial and Judicial conventions, were well attended. The delegation to the State convention is about equally divided between Messrs. Dawson and Teter. Of course, it is unanimous for the county's candidate for Secretary of State—the Hon. Charles W. Swisher.
Mannington district instructed its delegates for him. Winfield, the Senator's native district, did likewise.
The latter also passed a resolution instructing its delegates to vote for the Hon. W. M. O. Dawson for governor.

The question uppermost now among the Pennsylvania Republicans is the successor of Senator Quay. It is believed by many that Governor Pennypacker will appoint R. R. Quay the late Senator's son, to serve the unexpired term of his father. He is not a candidate, however, for either the unexpired or the succeeding term.

The farmer is having his inning these times, as the weather for growing purposes couldn't be better.
The grass promises to be abundant, better than for years, and everything else pertaining to vegetable life is doing well.

The Lincoln Republican in a happy frame of mind exclaims: "If the Republican party throughout the State has good condition everywhere, Lincoln county, the State has a 30,000 majority."

DEMOCRACY AND THE CANAL.

Most of the Democratic State conventions that have adopted platforms have placed themselves in a curious situation as regards the Panama canal. Not daring to come out openly against an undertaking of which they had approved in former years, they have accepted the result of the work of the Roosevelt administration and denounced the methods by which that result was obtained. Now that the canal has been paid for and the labor of completing it is about to begin, the Democrats have suddenly discovered that the manner of acquiring it was all wrong and that the Nation of which they form a part is preparing to enjoy the fruits of usurpation and robbery. How they will extricate themselves from the dilemma they have constructed is not made known by any of the platforms, and the question is passed up to the St.
Louis convention.

The trouble arises from the inveterate habit of the Democrats of finding fault with what has been accomplished. They do not suggest that the negotiations with the republic of Panama be revoked and that there shall be a new beginning with Colombia substituted for Panama, but that is the only moral alternative if their ground holds good. Should the National convention follow the lead of the State conventions when it makes its platform it will be compelled to incorporate an absurdity on the sole plea that the Republican way of handling the subject must necessarily be condemned. Gorman attempted to commit the party in the Senate at the recent session, but was defeated through the defection of a number of the Democratic Senators. Those who revolted from his leadership were wise enough to perceive the folly of his attitude and to vote with the Republicans to push ahead with an enterprise the importance of which is recognized by the world.

The Republican convention will, of course, applaud the canal project and the method guaranteeing that it shall be finished, and that declaration will be confirmed by the people, regardless of what hair-splitting distinctions the Democrats may draw. It is sufficient for the country that the administration cut the knot of complications and pulled the canal out of the tangle created by Colombian greed and repudiation of promises. Under the Democratic scheme the dickering between Washington and Bogota would still be going on.—Pittsburg Times.

HIS MOTHERS-IN-LAW, AND UP-HOLDS POLYGAMY.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 6.—"I want to say that the best friends I ever had were my mothers-in-law. I loved and honored them and shall ever hold their memory sacred," President Joseph E. Smith, of the Mormon church, in an address Sunday, thus defended mothers-in-law, the butt of humorists. He spoke also in support of polygamy and declared he would not desert his plural wives, but would be faithful to them and to his children.

Cuskey, near Cameron. The contracting parties were Mr. Frank Foster, of Wellsburg, W. Va., and Miss Carrie McCuskey. Promptly at 6:30 P. M. the wedding march sounded.
Presently the groom appeared attended by Mr. George McCuskey as best man, followed shortly by the bride attended by Miss Ora McCuskey as bridesmaid. As the sounds of the wedding march ceased, Rev.
Earl A. Brooks, pastor of the Waverly Presbyterian church, and brother-in-law of the bride, stepped forward and pronounced the beautiful wedding service assisted by Rev. R. F.
Getty, which made the happy couple one. The ring ceremony was used.
After the ceremony the wedding company sat down to an elegant dinner.
The bride wore a beautiful gown of crepe de chine over gray silk. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. Those present outside

DEAD

HENRY MARSHALL, A SURVIVOR OF THE FILIBUSTERING EX-PEDITION TO NICARAGUA,
DIED YESTERDAY.

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 6.—Henry Marshall, one of the men who went on the Walker filibustering expedition to Nicaragua and lived to tell of it, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Wadsworth, in this city yesterday afternoon. Mr. Marshall was 74 years old and was born in Oswego.

He met Walker who suggested a filibustering expedition to Nicaragua and Marshall saw a chance for excitement. The first filibustering party landed at Reale, Nicaragua, on June 11, 1855 and captured Granada.
Walker was appointed Secretary of War and Commander in Chief of the armed force of the Republic.

Walker's rule became arbitrary and provoked an insurrection which resulted in his expulsion from Granada. Walker later organized an expedition and again started for Nicaragua. It was on this trip that most of the party were shot. Marshall and a man named Bob Gardiner spent several days in the dome of a church, in which there was a bell, which the sharpshooters used for a target.

When Marshall got out of the tower he was taken into the home of a Spanish family, where he remained for three years. Marshall did not do any filibustering after that.
Walker did and was shot at Honduras.

The editorial jottings below were clipped from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

The party without issues is naturally attracted by a candidate without a voice.

The first month of the World's Fair has passed into history. Nobody has had to walk back, go hungry or sleep in the streets.

If young Hearst will wait until Christmas, maybe Santa Claus will be good enough to bring him some kind of a nomination.

Several more boodle cases have been reversed by the Missouri Supreme Court. Nineteen convictions, but nobody in the penitentiary yet.

Old Probabilities could accomplish his greatest feat by making a correct forecast of what will happen at the Democratic national convention.

"Judge Parker is the logical candidate," says Mr. Cleveland. The question is how many of the 6,000,000 who voted for Bryan are willing to accept the logic.

Col. Bryan is still knocking on the New York platform and insisting that the Democratic nominee should be a good off-hand talker rather than an equestrian statue.

After ten years of calm communion with himself, ex-President Cleveland has placed the stamp of approval upon his course in the settlement of the Chicago strike.

Judge Parker's political convictions are of the most elastic description. He would just as soon run on Senator Gorman's platform as on one constructed by Hill or Bryan.

Running for President may be Mr.
Hearst's idea of having a good time, at his own expense, and without causing serious inconvenience to any of the other candidates.

Hardly enough Democrats turned out in the Democratic primary at Sedalia to start things in the different wards. A self-indicted party is apt to develop a tired feeling.

Mr. Bryan intends to call for a count among the 6,000,000 who voted for him to find out how many of them are willing to admit that the platforms of 1896 and 1900 were wrong.

The reorganizers hope that Bryan will bolt. Their experience in voting the Republican ticket convinces them that totting the Democratic ticket is safe, pleasant and profitable.

Mr. Cleveland indorses Parker as a satisfactory Democrat, but the commitment has not been reciprocated. The sphinx of Esopus could not speak of that, even if he began to talk.

Senator Gorman dominated the Democratic convention, dictated the delegates and made the opening and closing prayers. The boss has lost none of his pristine vigor.

Attorneys U. N. Arnett and A. L.
Lehman went to Wheeling this morning to appear before the Supreme Court of Appeals in some important matters.
